

Case Report: The Unforeseen Tragedy

In the early hours of November 15, 2023, the city of Mumbai was shaken by a shocking incident. Ramesh Mehta, a renowned businessman, was found dead in his lavish penthouse. The cause of death was identified as a fatal gunshot wound to the chest.

The primary suspects in the case are Sumit Verma and Khan Ali, both close associates of Ramesh. Sumit was Ramesh's business partner, while Khan was his personal bodyguard.

On the night of the murder, CCTV footage from Ramesh's penthouse showed Sumit and Khan entering the building. Sumit was seen carrying a briefcase, which he claimed contained important business documents. Khan, being the bodyguard, was legally carrying his licensed firearm.

Around midnight, gunshots were heard by the residents of the building. The building security found Ramesh dead and both Sumit and Khan were missing from the scene.

The forensic team found fingerprints matching Khan's on the murder weapon. However, Khan claims that his gun was stolen from him by an unknown assailant. He alleges that he was knocked unconscious and by the time he woke up, Ramesh was already dead.

Sumit, on the other hand, states that he left the penthouse before the incident. He claims that he had an argument with Ramesh regarding their business and left in a fit of rage. His car was seen leaving the building premises around the suspected time of the murder.
